Jennifer Lamb, Caring For America Chair

The Greater Houston Metropolitan area has a very high number of homeless pets needing homes. And, unfortunately, there are not enough homes for all these animals in Houston. The good news is that there are other parts of the US where there is a pet shortage. Rescued Pet Movement is an organization that steps in to help fill this gap by rescuing pets from local shelters and giving them the care and medical attention they need and then transporting them to other states where they will be adopted into a forever home.
